AMUSEMENTS.

"THE HEART OF CHICAGO."—Next Saturday matinee and night Lincoln J. Carter's big scenic production, "The Heart of Chicago," will be presented at the Academy of Music. A New York exchange says:

"Lincoln J. Carter's production, 'The Heart of Chicago,' was seen for the first time in New York Monday evening, January 19, and the large audience applauded it to the echo. The scenic and mechanical effects are particularly strong. The ruins of the big fire in the first act, and a panoramic view of Chicago and Lake Michigan as seen from a roof garden, were beautiful effects. The climax of the fourth act, where a train is stopped at the very edge of the open draw by the presence of mind of the engineer's sweetheart in setting the danger signals in the nick of time, caused a furor of applause. The effect is most deceiving, as the engine is supposed to come head on from the rear of the stage. The opening of the scene shows a long stretch of railroad track straight ahead. The house is darkened while the villains get in their work in their attempt to send the train into the river. Suddenly the headlight of the approaching engine is seen to appear, a mere spark, which gradually shows a lustre. The green light is shown by the schemers, although the bridge has been opened. The increasing noise indicates the near approach of the train, when the girl breaks the door of the shanty in which she has been locked and swings the red light on the semaphore in time to stop the train. When the stage is lightened there is disclosed a remarkable realistic puffing engine, with headlight, escaping steam and all other effects. The plot of the play was well carried through by a uniformly capable cast. De Witt Clinton as Edward Coleman and Robert Sage, Frederic Douglas as John Ames, Allan Hampton as Bradley, and Barbara Douglas as Emily Coleman and Miss Afton playing principal roles.

HOYT'S "A MILK WHITE FLAG."—Local play-goers have always extended a cordial welcome to the comedies of Charles Hoyt, but the presentation of his most artistic success, "A Milk White Flag," at the Academy of Music next Friday evening will command more than ordinary attention. The cast is composed of the best talent in the profession, and will number about fifty persons, including a military band, under the direction of Prof. Frank C. Camp. All the scenery used in the piece is carried by the company, being brought from Hoyt's New York theatre, and is said to be the most elaborate ever seen by a "road" company. Sale of seats commences next Wednesday morning. Prices, 25c. to $1.

THE GLOUCESTER'S CONDITION.

(Baltimore Sun.)

The accident to the Merchants' and Miners' steamer Gloucester, which occurred during Monday night's storm while partly out of the water on Booz Brothers' railway, has become more serious than was at first expected. As stated in the Sun, the vessel was about one-third out of the water, as she had been hauled out by the stern to receive a new tail end shaft. The sudden lowering of the water by the strong north-west winds caused the bow to strike the bottom, and as there was not enough water to keep it afloat, the ship rolled to starboard and made a nasty list. She remained in that position until yesterday, when the tide promised to assist in floating her. The tugs Britannia, Venus, Camilla, Uncle Sam and Patapsco hauled her in the morning and succeeded in doing nothing but righting her a little. In the afternoon more than an ordinary tide came in and it was thought that she would float. The steamer Dorchester, Captain Parker, a vessel of 2,537 tons register, was made fast with two strong lines and tugged at the Gloucester for fully an hour. With this great weight and strong engines against the Gloucester the latter did not quiver under the great strain. The tugs Venus and Camilla were assisting, too. This morning the iceboat P. C. Latrobe will make an effort to remove the ship from her tight position.

HIGH TONED LECTURE.

The Rev. Edward Hamilton, of Kansas City, says Dr. Flower's Health Lectures are the most amusing, enjoyable, instructive medical lectures ever delivered on the modern platform.

These lectures, says this reverend gentleman, should be heard by every man, woman and child who appreciates the beautiful and the good. They will make every man and woman better, happier and more cheerful. Morally considered they are high toned and finished, intellectual, laughable, pathetic and fascinating. Besides Dr. Flower's lectures are freighted with knowledge and one will often learn from a single lecture more than he will from a whole course of study.

Dr. Flower is booked to lecture to men and women free at the Academy of Music this (Sunday afternoon) at 2:30 o'clock.
